Brainstorming

When designing your plane what type of things do you need to consider?

What do you think is the most important part of designing a paper plane? Why?

Explain what differences there might be between a plane designed to have the longest flight time and a plane designed to travel the furthest distance. Why would these factors impact the plane's flight?

Other notes